

Saturday

Dear All,

I am in Boston. It is very sunny today and I have walked around the city. I went to Boston Common, which is a very nice park. There were boats shaped like swans that you can ride in. I saw a mother duck and her ducklings, they were not real but were models!

After that I went on a Duck tour! They are special vehicles which drive on the road and go in the water as well. You can see the river that we drove in!

I have had a really fun day. I can't wait for my next trip!

All my love,

Bear
